Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra Set To Give Special Concert On Campus

timed throughout Europe, Middle East and United States, superb musical organization, Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra appears at BYU May 11.

Under the direction of world-famous conductor, William Steinberg, the orchestra will play at 8:15 p.m. in the Fieldhouse.

The orchestra last season made a triumphant tour of the European continent and the Near East under the sponsorship of the United States State department, and is making its first appearance in Salt Lake City and Provo as part of its current concert tour. The orchestra will perform on an extensive tour before returning to Pittsburgh. THE BUSY PITTSBURGH season includes 44 pairs of subscription concerts as well as 43 young peoples concerts, a ten performance season with the Pittsburgh Opera and many more special concerts in the Western Pennsylvania area.

In its recent overseas tour the Pittsburgh Symphony, directed by Steinberg, encompassed eleven active weeks that included more than 20,000 miles of travel and 42 concerts in fourteen countries.

The orchestra participated in music festivals including two concerts for the Athens Festival in Greece and appearances at the famous Balbeck Festival in Lebanon, the Lucerne Festival in Switzerland, the Edinburgh Festival and the Warsaw Contemporary Music Festival in Poland.

Stormer Reigns Today

er 95 per cent of the American realize the threat of Communism, but they are unwilling to face it," said John Stormer, Republican State Committee member and author of the book "Call It Treason at BYU."

HE WAS sponsored by the BYU Young Americans for Freedom. Stormer explained that the aid and resources that the United States, unbeknownst to most of its people, sends to the Soviets is being used to continue the war in Viet Nam.

"WE HELP them kill our men by giving them the supplies with which to do it," he said. He countered that we are opposing a world-Communist movement in Viet Nam as opposed to a Viet Nam, Cuba, or Red Chinese brand of communism. "AMERICAN LEADERSHIP has been unwilling to face up to the reality of the movement and our fight against it," he contended. "We cannot mellow them, as history has proven. The Communists can not give up the ideal of world domination and still be communists."

Stormer suggested that more than the two "Red or dead" alternatives existed. By attempting a policy of cutting off aid to Soviet countries, a more concrete foothold might be gained in defeating the spread of Communism, he said. "Our problem is not exclusively Communism. It is also American unthriftiness," he concluded.

Stormer... Communist Threat Told.

Action, Spills, Thrills To Introduce Rodeo Time BYU

by Dennis Read
Universe Staff Writer

Action, spills, thrills, and pageantry! It's intercollegiate rodeo time at BYU.

COMING OUT of all chutes at the Provo rodeo grounds Friday and Saturday will be bronco busters and bullriders galore—not to mention over a score of talented calf ropers who will be competing against time and each other for trophies and prizes.

Rodeo action starts Friday at 7 p.m. The first bareback chuck will be thrown open shortly thereafter. Saturday's performance will begin at 1 p.m. with the finals that evening starting at 7 p.m.

THE PROVO rodeo grounds are located at 1300 South University. Buses will leave the Wilkinson Center from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Friday for the grounds and return students from the grounds.

Between 12 and 15 schools from the Rocky Mountain region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association are scheduled to be in town for the two-day event.

AMONG THESE will be Utah, Weber State, and Utah State, and out-of-state visitors Idaho State, Ricks College, Montana State, and the University of Montana.

Team trophies will be awarded to the winning team with trophy buckles going to the individual winners of the various events.

SPECIAL EVENTS adding to the entertainment will include a wild cow ride in which the various men's service units will compete. The object is to lasso the cow, saddle it and ride it.

Both former ASBYU President Bob Christiansen and Lynn Southam, current president, will be competing in a wild cow challenge ride off with the studentbody president of Montana State Saturday night.

REPORTS REACHING the Daily Universe Thursday said Lavar Rockwood was entered in Friday night's saddle bronc riding. These reports, however, were unconfirmed at press time, but a quick check with rodeo officials showed that a bucking horse has been drawn in Rockwood's name.

One of the unusual features of college rodeo competition is that technically there are no amateurs in this sport. From their first rodeo, most riders and ropers are regarded as pros—and many of them, including several Cougar cowpunchers, have won sizeable purses competing in rodeos around the country in the summer.

SPORTSMANSHIP in a rodeo is more prevalent than in most sports. It's not uncommon to see horses being loaned to fellow contestants, or cowboys from one team helping out those from another by riding as "hazers."

The Cougar cowpunks are reported to be ready for action and plenty hungry for a first place team victory in this, their home rodeo. If competing on home ground proves as successful for them as it did the basketball team, they should be solid favorites.

VISITING STANDOUTS will include Idaho State's Davey Hart, perhaps the most colorful figure in college rodeo today. The son of a former world's champion cowboy, Dave wears a gigantic wide-brim hat and flashy red bandana like something out of a Zane Grey novel. Last summer he won $1200 riding a bull in Colorado.

Climaxing each evening will be a western dance with music provided by the Tetons. Friday's dance begins at 9:30 p.m. in the Wilkinson Center ballroom; Saturday's dance will be held in the east gym.

Game Tickets Available

Tickets for the Alumni-Varsity football game scheduled for May 14 will go on sale Thursday at 9 a.m. at the Wilkinson Center.

According to Student Athletics Board Chairman, Dennis Moore, the cost of tickets will be 50 cents for bench seats and 51 for chairs. The faculty will receive tickets at the same rate as the students, he said.

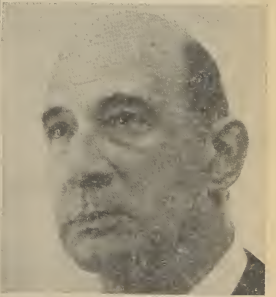

Western Week To Feature Friday Parade

Western Week activities will feature a parade Friday afternoon that will circle the BYU campus and wind down University Ave. to Center St.

THE PARADE will form in the Smith Fieldhouse parking lot at 2:30 p.m.

Administrative people of the University and the city of Provo will lead the parade. They will ride in a survey; fringe on top still undetermined.

DEAN CAMERON and President Crockett will represent the BYU and Mayor Dixon will represent the Provo citizens.

William Steinberg, the famed conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, will appear with the company on the BYU campus May 11. They completed a recent European tour.

BYU's Rapid Growth Causes Problems

Note: This is the second of a two-part article on BYU's rapid growth, and the problems it is causing.

by Steve Berry
Universe Editor

Rejoice the Church of Jesus of Latter-day Saints. It has many young members of church as possible at Brigham University has caused a rapid growth in the number of students and, accompanying it, of financing.

had less than 5,000 students in 1960 and now has 20,000 students.

ORDER TO KEEP UP with rapid growth, the University has 22 permanent academic buildings since 1951 for a total of 1,000,000 square feet. In addition the University has on-campus housing for students, most of the units being built since 1950.

vidence of the space problem is the fact that the University is using more than 40 hours a week, laboratories averaging 10 to 15 hours a week and laboratories averaging 61.5 hours a week. Last year BYU's were limited to an average of 229 square feet of floor per student. In comparison, 1960 students had 165 square feet, Wyoming 443, and 1378.

HAS ALSO been hard-put with respect to number of members. The University full-time faculty members ratio of 31 students per teacher. This compares with 10 per full-time faculty member at Harvard and the University of California at Berkeley, nine per at Yale and 22 at the University of Utah.

ing the shortages in professional classroom space have the difficulties of financing university.

as other schools may accept support or be state aid or have large endowment established, the Church is the sole means of support university.

BUILDING PROGRAM of the university has cost the Church nearly $80 million in the years.

operating cost of BYU last year was approximately $15 million, including the building program averages about $4.5 million per year.

student pays about $720 per year towards the cost of the University per student per year of study $815 for operating expenses, totaling over $1,000 per student. The rest of each fee goes for student body.

FINES TUITION, gift income from alumni funds provides a little $10,000 per year toward the $20 million expenses of running the University. The Church is left to pay more than 80 percent the costs of the University.

the membership of the Church has doubled since 1950 from a little over one million members to over two million, the size of BYU has increased at a much greater rate, as has the cost per student of education.

FROM A COST per student of less than $400 in 1950, the expense of educating a student more than doubled to over $600 last year. During the same time period, the size of the student body quadrupled from less than 5,000 students to nearly 20,000. These two factors caused costs of the University to the Church to multiply eight times while the size of the Church only doubled.

The Church is also expanding in areas other than the University. Among the growing expenses are hospitals, temples, seminaries, institutes, missionary work, genealogy, building programs, ward maintenance, welfare, communications and world-wide travel.

ADDED TO GROWING Church expenditures in other areas, the fact that the growth of the Church membership has come mainly from young converts and births, principally people unable to share the financial burdens of the Church, makes it obvious that the financial load of the Church is increasing so fast that it cannot long continue to absorb such a large share of the increasing costs of BYU.

Other universities as well as BYU are having the same type of problems with increasing enrollment, but these universities have many solutions that can't be employed at the Y.

THESE SCHOOLS ATTEMPT to solve their problems by either restricting enrollment, increasing tuition, accepting federal funds, through large fund raising programs or a combination of these solutions.

Unfortunately, most of these solutions either are impractical for BYU or would defeat the University's purpose.

For instance, if the University were to restrict enrollment, it would have to either raise academic requirements, restrict enrollment to worthy Church members, or establish junior colleges.

AS FAR AS ACADEMIC requirements are concerned, the attitude of the Church has been to help the marginal student as well as the gifted. For this reason enrollment has never been restricted on the basis and the University has established counseling and tutoring programs as well as an honors program.

Restricting enrollment to worthy members of the Church would deny non-members the opportunity of becoming acquainted with and possibly accepting the Gospel, as well as deny the students the valuable experience of interaction with people of different beliefs.

ESTABLISHING JUNIOR colleges was considered by the General Authorities of the Church, but because of cost the plan has not been adopted.

If an increase in tuition were accepted as a solution to the school's financial problems, few students would be able to pay the considerably more than $1,000 per year required. Even with tuition as low as it now is, a great number of students find it necessary to work part-time while attending school.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES has kept tuition comparable to state institutions so that money would not be a primary determinant in an LDS student's selection of a school.

With respect to the use of federal funds, the Board of Trustees has felt it best not to accept such funds in order to maintain the private character of the University.

Their attitude parallels that of the president of Harvard University, who said: "Harvard must maintain private contributions in order to be strong enough that we can say no to the government when what they want is not in Harvard's best interest."

THE FINAL ALTERNATIVE possible, that of fund raising programs to solicit contributions from alumni and other sources, is the only one compatible with the mission of BYU and is the alternative which is now being used by the University.

But with this program come more problems—problems of putting it into effect and raising enough funds to catch up with the rapid growth of the University itself.

Mandatory-Solving BYU's Financial Problems.

AFROTC Cadets Form New Band

A new orchestra came to life in the Provo area, when the Air Force ROTC band played before their first crowd.

THIS GROUP or young AFROTC Cadets named themselves the Titans, and started to practice their dance music in their regular practice each week. From this practicing some 20 cadets decided to form their own dance band.

more from California, picked and organized the music used by this newly organized band. He then turned the music over to Dallas Lowe, another AFROTC Cadet who directs the Titans. After many hours of practice this group performed before the Cadet Corp at one of their wing parties, which sparked the men in the corps to state that this group was one of the best and easiest bands that they ever danced to. This new group was asked to play at the AFROTC Military Ball, which they accepted.

CAPTAIN MARTIN G. Reeder, commandant of cadets at BYU stated that the Titans was one of the best bands that he had heard for a long time, and that they could with a little more time and practice be one of the best dance bands in the area, and that this energetic group of talented musicians are ambitiously inclined to succeed in their new role as a splendid and outstanding dance band.

U.S. Troops Encircle 300 Cong

SAIGON, (UPI)—U.S. troops killed 200 Viet Cong in a battle Thursday and captured 300 South Vietnamese army, have lured a double ring around 300 to 400 more trapped in a valley, a U.S. spokesman reported. It was the first heavy fighting in three weeks.

UNITS of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division clashed with the large enemy force in the Bong Son area, 280 miles northeast of Saigon and the scene of major fighting earlier this year.

The battle erupted during the first rains of the monsoon season as Allied troops were on the alert for a possible Communist offensive. Whodunnit U.S. Viet Cong near Bong Son were engaged in an attack under cover of the rains was not known.

ASSOCIATED PRESS correspondent Bob Pous, reporting from the battle area, said Allied forces in the Bong Son area had seized heights and thrown two encircling rings around what is believed to be a reinforced battalion.

The action continued Thursday night and there were indications the Communists intended to fight it out to the end.

Despite the Communists were reported leaving back with more basic military guns, recoilless rifles and rifles in heavy exchanges of fire, Pous said, U.S. casualties were reported to be light, however.

IN THE AIR war, U.S. Air Force and Navy planes took advantage of a break in the weather to swarm over North Viet Nam after a two-day lull enforced by the monsoon rains. They attacked bridges and supply routes but no specific targets were listed. Nor was there any indication of how many missions were flown.

Two members of BYU's intercollegiate bowling team, Farris and Melva Pugh, check their scores to determine whether or not they have qualified for the final of the Rocky Mountain Conference to be hosted by the Wilkinson Center Lanes Saturday. The tournament is televised by KBYU TV, Channel 11, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Automobile Industry Shake By General Motors Cutoff

DETROIT, (AP)—The auto industry was jolted Thursday by a drop in April sales and announcement of a production cutback at General Motors, the world's largest automaker.

SOME INDUSTRY sources were quick to blame the drop on bad publicity resulting from the auto safety issue.

GM's brief announcement said four of its 23 assembly plants worked short time this week "to get production schedules in line with current stocks in the field."

IT WAS the first time in five years that GM had slowed down its production pace for inventory reasons.

There had been previous slowdowns or shutdowns at various units, but these were due to problems like supplier strikes, railroad strike.

Chevrolet in Ypsilanti, Mich., Van Nuys, Calif., and an assembly plant in South Georgia worked only three days a week while an Atlanta, Ga., plant for four days, came as a surprise to the rest of the industry.

500 Payment Presented On New Entrance Sign

An initial payment of $500 toward the class gift to the university has been made by the Class of '67. The money will be used to pay for the new 12th North entrance to the school which was recently completed.

HANDLING the arrangements for the initial payment were this year's junior class officers: Del Williams, president; Karen Callister, vice president; Vicki Brown, secretary; Leona Farley and Terry Lee, assemblymen.

We felt this was the best gift could make to the university," Williams in making the presentation. "The new entrance with two illuminated pylons, information booth, and events calendar be a tremendous asset to the school in helping visitors orient themselves."

COMPLETION of the project will be under the direction of the senior officers for next year: Miss Hoagland, president; J. D. Beck, vice president, and Terry Anderson, secretary.

President Attends Meet

Presently attending the Pacific Student President's Association conference in El Paso, Texas, is ASBYU President Lynn Southern and Executive Assistant David Stephenson.

THE CONFERENCE, hosted this year by New Mexico University is composed of studentbody presidents from the Pacific states and western Texas.

According to Southern, the purpose of the yearly program is to bring together student leaders from the different colleges and universities for an exchange of ideas, problems and policies.

SCHOOLS represented are from Montana on the north to Colorado on the east to Texas on the south to California on the west.

"Our purpose in going," said Southern, "is to win the bid to host the conference at BYU next year."

"WE WANT to host it here because BYU student government is much more advanced than most schools and has information that is beneficial for others."

Southern and Stephenson have a slide presentation, arranged to tell of BYU and the life that students have at the Y, which they will present at the conference.

"THE CONFERENCE, if held here next year," said Southern, "will provide a great opportunity for the image of BYU to be projected and to let others know what we represent."

Talent Needed For KBYU TV

Auditions for talent from the BYU campus and surrounding areas are now open for the "In Town Tonight" program on KBYU-TV.

GENE HENDERSON and Marge Potter, the two co-producers of the program, will be combing the area for entertainment talent.

The "In Town Tonight" program features both amateur and professional talent on its Monday, Wednesday and Friday night broadcasts. Last week Gene Henderson conducted an interview with Molly Bee, a popular singer, who was performing at the Valley Music Hall in Salt Lake City.

BYU Diamond Squad Set For Redskin Series

Jim Young, base all 11ers strengthen their lead in the Northern Division of Western Athletic Conference made crown Friday and Saturday as they prepare to meet the University of Utah in a three-game to go for Saturday's games.

THE BRUNT OF THE Cougar attack will be Puma slugging power. The Cats boast seven players hitting along at a better than .300 clip.

Catcher Tom Fife leads the host of sluggers with a .538 batting average in 39 times at bat. Dennis Lamb leads in the at-bat department with 107 times at the plate with a .318 average.

Utah's Steve Radulovich, billed earlier as the big power man for the Ute sound, has been a low producer for the Indians. Tex Tollman and Jerry Pullman have taken over as the Ute hitting power, although Radulovich made a comeback against the Pokes.

MINUTES WILL come to Prove initial encounter Friday at 7 p.m. at Derk's Field. Cougars are currently lead in Northern pack with a best record in conference play. They swept an earlier three-series with the Utes, and took 10 of three from Wyoming last week to set the pace.

WIMING, expected to be a championship contender, took a leave on their Utah trip, leaving while winning two, leaving the Cougars with 2-4 records in conference play.

ROUGH BYU cleaned house in Redskins last time, the Cougars making serious preparation for the weekend encounters. Tuckett will probably go to the Foderaro for the opening. Foderaro leads the Cat pitcher with a 4-0 record.

It's Jim Henderson and Jim Ward will probably be ready

Independents Lasso CSU Rodeo Crown

A BYU "second" rodeo team, composed mainly of independent riders and ropers, entered the College of Southern Utah rodeo last weekend and walked off with first place team honors.

BRENT DANSIE placed second in the bareback riding. Leroy Lamb placed second in the saddle bronc.

John Malarie, former BYU football star, placed third in bulldogging. Gary Goding took a third in the buldriding, and Ned Johnson took a third in the saddle bronc.

Other team members competing but not placing were Gene Bordman, Leo Paterno, and Doug Peterson.

Colts Vie For Derby Pot

LOUISVILLE, KY., (AP)—Sixteen 3-year-old colts, were named Thursday for Saturday's running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs with Abe's Hope still the mild choice after drawing No. 13 post position.

WITH 16 STARTERS the race will be worth $164,000 with $121,500 going to the winner.

Amberoid, first horse of a total of 150 to be nominated last February, drew the no. 1 post position, a position desired by trainer Lucien Laurin for Reginald Webster's late closing Son of Count Amber.

KAUAI KING, the second choice owned by Michael Ford of Omaha, Neb., drew no. 12 with the Wheatley Stable's Stupendous in the no. 3 slot.

The no. 2 post position went to Blue Skyer, who'll be ridden by Ray Broussard if he starts.

Others entered were Rehabilitate, Advocate, Dominar, Fleet Shoe, Exhibitionist, Beau Sub, Sky Guy, Tragniew, Quinta and Williamson Kid. Williamson Kid, winner of the Florida Derby after Abe's Hope was disqualified, drew the outside post position.

Varsity-Alumni Game A 'New' Cougar Tradition

BYU's annual spring alumni- varsity football game scheduled this year for Saturday, May 14—is virtually a new tradition.

IT HAD ITS inception in the 1950's, but frequent coaching changes in the grid program of the University was a major reason for occasional disruption of the spring affair.

The Provo Downtown Coaches' Club sponsored the contest during the first three years of this decade, but publicity lacked and so did funds.

IN 1963 THE on-campus Cougar Club was asked to promote the game, and subsequently the athletic grass-roots fund has been enriched markedly.

The proceeds from the 1965 encounter—won by the varsity, 26-14—amounted to nearly $4,000, and this year's goal is $10,000.

MONEY FROM the yearly fund-raising affair is used to bring prospective Cougar athletes to the campus for a visit. Much of the credit for the large influx of outstanding athletes to BYU must be given to the financial impetus from past alumni- varsity games.

Dick Felt, defensive back for the Boston Patriots and coach of the alumni for the past two years, says that both teams will be the best they've been for many years.

COACH FELT anticipates that some 45 former Cougar stand-outs will be competing for the alumni squad, including All-American quarterback Eldon "Phantom" Forte and several others who have gone on to play the sport professionally.

Expected to be the core of the alumni this year are linemen from BYU's 1965 Western Athletic Conference championship team: Bill Wansote, Austin Jones, Shiva, Dennis Brewster, Hilton, and defensive back Nance.

Former pro gridgers who thrilled Cougar fans are offensive back Nyle McFarland and line Lonnie Dennis and Phil Braxton.

ALSO EXPECTED to play a role for the graduates are Bruce Smith, halfback Bill and defensive players Barry Kinney, Mike Jacobson, and Kammel.

The running of fullback Ogden more than offset the loss of Forte last year in the triumph. Ogden, the leading rusher in the WAC for the two years, piled up 53 yards carries.

A HUGE CROWD is expected to turn out to see Coach Tompsett's conference championship for the first time in 1966. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Prep Thinclad To Spice Up Weekend Field

Two outstanding high school track stars, one from Canada and the other from Spokane, will spice up the high school and distances at Saturday's annual Invitational Meet at TERRY TOMLINSON, junior champion of Canada, run in the 100 and 220-yard dashes while Spokane high school runner Rick Riley will be a tripart in the mile. Both are competing in the Class A school division.

Tomlinson is credited with 0:06 in the 100-yard dash, judged one of the finest prospects in track and field. RILEY HAS RUN a 4:40.5 a 9:00.1 two-mile, plus a three-mile.

The finals of the high school track and field events are slated for Saturday afternoon at BYU stadium.

Sugar Tracksters In Title Defense

Utah Young University's school track and field squad is looking forward to its annual Rocky Invitational Saturday afternoon in Life on the University of Utah.

COUGARS have yet to be in the short history of the invitational, though they took the title far in the 1965 season. Every indication that Coach Hobson's crew will continue domination of the annual schools are entered in this invitational, including Utah State, two teams the Cougars defeated handily already.

THE THREE teams met on Saturday, May 6, the Cougars accumulated more points than the other two schools put together. Cougars read BYU 103½, Utah State 40, and Utah 39½. Also competing Saturday will be Idaho State, Denver, and Montana.

IN LAST YEAR'S invitational meet, BYU captured 12 of 18 first place medals in sweeping to the team title. Winners from that meet who will be competing again Saturday for BYU will be Ben Morgan, Bob Delaney, Mike Douglas, Mike Bianco, and Paul Skowron.

Morgan set a new school record in the two-mile last week at California, and will be battling Utah's Chuck Schuck in that event Saturday. Either Delaney or Bob Richards should have an easy time of it in the mile.

THE 400-yard hurdles will go to Douglas, and Al Rockwell could win the 120 yard hurdles. He will have plenty of competition, however, if Utah State's Jerry Cerulla has sufficiently recovered from his injuries to compete.

Bianco could repeat last year's win in the shotput, but he'll have to go some to beat teammate Ken Patera, who has taken over the school record. Giving Skowron plenty of competition in the pole vault will be Freshman Al Balmforth.

A REAL BATTLE could develop in the triple jump. Both Utah's Ben Stowell and BYU's Pete Dana have gone over 49 feet this year, and Ben Laverly is right behind them.

Also close will be the sprints. Dave Reeves of the Y and Utah's Dean Morgan have achieved almost identical times in both the 100 and 200 dashes.

PREDICTIONS for the middle distance races and the relays are a little harder to make. The Cats are sure to win their share of them both, but exactly which Cougars will win which races remains to be seen.

"We're doing a little experimenting," explains Assistant Coach William Hirsch. The coaches will be changing the line-up somewhat to test their trackmen in various races. The aim is to come up with some powerful new combinations for the West Coast Relays to be held in Fresno, California on May 13-14.

Smile, Mrs. Sebastodes ...you're on live TV

Sebastes, or Rockfish, is one of many colorful species of the ocean depths where our underwater TV cameras and lights probe the night-black water at 600 feet.

These cameras are not for study of marine life, however. They're down there to help technicians aboard our anchored oil-drilling ships guide complicated, remote-controlled drilling equipment. TV receivers on deck enable engineers to observe these drilling operations at depths hazardous for human divers to penetrate.

600 feet—100 fathoms. It's almost twice as deep as any ocean oil drilling ever attempted, until some very special techniques developed by Standard Oil scientists and engineers made it possible.

Our continuing search for new sources of oil takes us to mountains, deserts, and ever and ever deeper waters. For we must be certain that adequate supplies of oil are on hand to serve the Free World's growing energy needs, now and in the future . . . an important part of our responsibility to you.
